Investment Objective

The Fortunate Drawdown Portfolio is set up to provide investors the opportunity for a retirement "silo" approach through diversification of different asset classes and asset managers. The underlying structure is set with a specific strategy for the income withdrawal from the portfolio, combined with medium less volatile equity allocation and a tail of equity allocation for long term capital growth.

In the event that specific collective investment schemes in securities (unit trusts) are mentioned please refer to the relevant fact sheet in order to obtain all the necessary information in regard to that unit trust.

Collective Investment Schemes in Securities (CIS) are generally medium to long-term investments. The value of participatory interests may go down as well as up and past performance is not necessarily a guide to the future. CIS are traded at ruling prices and can engage in borrowing and scrip lending. A schedule of fees and charges and maximum commissions is available on request from the company/scheme. Commission and incentives may be paid and if so, would be included in the overall costs. Forward pricing is used.
